Lesson Objective:

Write the lesson objective here.

STEP ONE: To help you reach the objective, please read:

Write the text title here.

Select readings from appropriate materials – ESL students may read a passage from a fourth-grade book, while advanced students might read about the same topic from a college-level text.

STEP TWO: List the main ideas from your reading:

Have students complete this part independently after completing the reading.

STEP THREE: After discussing this information with your learning team, record what you have learned.

Have students gather with their team members and discuss what they have learned from their reading. They should then have someone act as a scribe to record their responses.

On the next page, you will find a blank learning page to use for your class.
